- With over 600 delegates in attendance from all the Atlantic Coast States, the eighth annual convention of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways association opened in the Chatham artillery armory in Savannah, Ga., Tuesday afternoon. President J. Hampton Moore of Philadelphia presided. The convention will continue in session until Friday afternoon. Assembling at the headquarters hotel the delegates headed by President Moore and Mayor Wallace J. Pierpont of Savannah, marched to the conven tion hall. Secretary Redfield of the commerce department joined them at the entrance and was greeted with general applause.

- The steamship Rochambeau, which left New York Saturday, for Bor-deaux, France, with 600 persons aboard, was discovered to have fire in her coal bunkers on Monday and for some time the fire promised to be so serious that the ship was turned toward Halifax, N. S., Later advices were to the effect that the fire had been extinguished and the ship was proceeding to its destination. The vessel carried, besides its crew and 421 passengers, a cargo which cluded 2,541 cases of cartridges, 20 cases of guns, 100 bales of cotton cases of guns, 100 bales of cotton waste, 254 flasks of quicksilver, automobiles, aeroplane supplies, iron and steel bars, copper and steel wire. It was also reported that an explosive bomb had been discovered concealed in a sack of sugar on board before the vessel sailed on Satboard before the vessel sailed on Saturday. The Rochambeau is one of the largest of the French ships plying between New York and French ports. - Earl Kitchener's ultimate mission during his absence from the British war office is said by confidential infor-mation received in Washington, to be India, where, according to the same information, Great Britain's rule is confronted with a more serious state of unrest than has generally been known outside of British official cir-cles. Through the thick veil which the British censorship has thrown about the events in India and Egypt comes a statement that Nawab, Sultan Ul Mulk, the Nizam of Hyderabad, Mulk, the Nizam of Hyderabad, one of the most influential men of the native princes and a staunch supporter of the British, has been deposed by his people. This development, coming after successive reports of mutinies and unrest, is said to be the leading reason for Earl Kitchener's departure from England. It has been officially announced that the head of the British war office was on his way to the war office was on his way to th theatre of operations in the near east, which has been generally interpreted as Balkans. Information the reaching the United States, however through channels not subject to cen sorship, is to the effect that it is well known in London among those close to the government that although Earl Kitchener may stop in the Balkans to co-ordinate the efforts of the Allied forces, his ultimate destination is not only India, but Egypt as well, where the British gateway to Asia now is menaced by the Tutonic-Bulgarian-Turk success in the Balkans.

There were 482 passengers on board and a crew estimated at 60 to 160. There were 27 Americans on the ship and these are reported among the missing. A Tunis dispatch gives a brief account of the sinking of the ship as follows: "A submarine approached the Ancona to wards noon and as soon as the steamer saw it, attempt was made to escap at full speed. The Ancona was over-taken and stopped. Then the subma-rine fired on the ship, sinking her amid the desperate cries of the passengers The lifeboats were next attacked, the submarine likewise firing on them. A woman, a man and two children were killed; their bodies are at Bizerta. The submarine then disappeared immediately, proceeding probably in the direction of the Aegean sea. Before sinking, the Ancona was able to get out a wireless call for help. This was heard by the station at Bizerta. Aid was sent promptly, and thus 160 pas-sengers and 10 sailors were saved They were taken to Ferryville (in the environ of Bizerta) where they were attended by physicians and consul. Among the survivors are a number of wounded emigrants, nearly all Italians, and 10 Greeks. - Washington, November 10: Great Britain was formally asked today by the United States for information concerning the recent search of the American ship Zealandia in the Mexican port of Progreso by a landing party from a British cruiser, Ambassador Page was instructed to make the inquiry through the London foreign office. A report from American Consul John W. Germon at Progress stated that the Zealandia was forcibly searched last week by men from a British cruiser now lying outside the harbor, presumably waiting to seize the vessel. In the absence of complete data state department officials were not inclined to comment on the case but it was indicated that it might dethe neutrality velop new points in situation prompting Mexico as well as the United States to enter protest to Great Britain. On October 7 the Zealandia mysteriously left Pensacola Fla., at night, clearing for Tampico, Mexico, carrying a large stock of provisions and manned principally by a crew of Germans. An American flag painted on her hull had been painted over and she flew the German colors, although that was flatly denied by her owners. The ship moved from Tampico to Campeche where British agents reported she bore a large quantity of rosin for which there was nel. They also reported their suspicions that she bore a large quantity of copper and the British view. that she bore a large quanti-ty of copper and the British view was that the ship was waiting for an op-portunity to slip out with the correportunity to slip out with the cargo but to proceed by force or abuse for some port where it would find would be unlawful, and I would its way to Great Britain's enemies.

- Dallas, Tex., November 11: Sharp differences of opinion as to the cause and treatment of pellagra marked the final symposium of the Southern Medical association, which concluded its annual convention here today. The dietary theory, recently advanced by Dr. Joseph Goldberger of the United States public health service, was the principal subject of discussion and the "lay press" were criticised as misleading. The sheriff has been besought by both sides. He stated in a meeting held Tuesday that he would, so far as possible, enforce the law imparitally irrespective of fac-tions. This statement was procured from him by 130 men, who had met for the purpose of finding whether or not they could expect protection from the sheriff, in case the mill manage-ment decided upon resumption of work. In a talk to the operatives, Sheriff Rector said: "If any of the operatives want to return to work no ostensible use in Mexico although and the opportunity is theirs, it is not their own vines and fig trees.
